

Welcome to the 5th Volume of RCP (Research in Critical Pedagogy). We are excited to present this edition, although there have been some unexpected changes to the original plan. While we had initially intended to feature five research papers, we regret to inform you that three of them were not yet ready for publication. However, we assure you that these articles will be included in the upcoming volume.

RCP is a peer-reviewed research journal that provides a platform for critical studies in education. As part of the Critical Education Network (CEN), a democratic collective initiative comprising scholars, educators, and publishers, RCP aims to foster a diverse and inclusive dialogue within the field of education.

In addition to our journal, we are pleased to announce that CEN will be publishing a book, available in hard copy format, which will showcase selected articles from the first five volumes of RCP. This book will serve as a valuable resource for those interested in exploring the breadth and depth of critical pedagogy.

At CEN, we value the contributions of volunteers and are open to welcoming new members to our network. We invite you to join us and become a part of this vibrant community dedicated to advancing critical perspectives in education.

Thank you for your continued support and solidarity.
